RE: Payment Plan

He's not getting to me. If he needs to believe that to face his life, it's his prerogative and his life. I know how I acted towards him, and I know how he acted towards me, and I have learned what I needed to in the relationship so I don't make similar mistakes again.

I'm doing much much better today. Just was a bad day yesterday all around. It's cool up here, and the wind is blowing like crazy... nobody out on the bay today, all whitecaps. Could be a fun day to go sailing honestly, beam reaching across the slot.

I'm going round the Farallones this Saturday. Super excited about being out there again... haven't been sailing in a while, and going out the gate... ahhh, the freedom. I just met an awesome woman last night who's done the Clipper Round the World and is working on the Ocean Watch project here. I also met an AMAZING two-time singlehander who has been featured in Cruising World multiple times. Sounds like Herb McCormick will be coming for part of the Oakland Boat Show too. I think I will be working part of the boat show on Ocean Watch too!

Anyway... good stuff... I hope it's warm where you are. It's effin freezing here!

Hi there,

I think I missed the "after we return" part, but I also think that was assumed. J I mean, how are you going to send me a plan while you are on vacation!

Yeah, I'm not happy about the additional expenses. I also hear that Chris is telling people that he "lost his girl, lost his dog, lost his house, but at least he's not being abused anymore." I had a struggle yesterday emotionally, but I think it's because I was woken up at 4a by a 4.0 earthquake (major jolt) centered here in Richmond. Everyone felt it in the East Bay, even people on boats.

Glad you are feeling better. You definitely need to try to relax as much as you can. I can't imagine when you are going to be able to relax again.

Take care, and talk soon. Miss you guys.

Hi DJ,

My concern is that right now I am underwater financially, as I've told you previously. I am currently treading water with the cash situation. I am also having to shell out a few hundred dollars that I don't have to finish off the townhouse due to the mess Chris left over there. It's really a cash flow issue for me, and yesterday I was thinking about the fact that you did send me an email about the repayment situation and a plan, but I hadn't seen anything other than the fact that you had a plan. I want to see the plan, that's all. I imagine if you were in my shoes, you'd feel the same way.

Thanks DJ. Hope you are having a great vacation.

Hi Kim,

I thought that I addressed this in a previous email before I left. Joe and I have discussed the repayment situation and we will have a plan in place upon our return. We both want to get you paid off ASAP. I am not sure what has triggered your concern but nonetheless I told you we would pay you back and we WILL pay you back.

DJ,

Please send me information regarding the plan to pay me back that you and Joe have come up with. I want to make sure we're on the same page and have the same understanding. I am concerned at this point how you are going to go about paying me back.

I appreciate the help and your support.
